Elemental Beings and the Worlds of Fairies

A gateway to natural intelligence

- Expanded new edition of the classic book “Elemental Beings”
- Access to spiritual and soul realms of planet Earth
- From well-known Earth-Healing and ‘litho-pressure’ expert

From fairy tales and legends, we are familiar with gnomes, mermaids, fairies and fire spirits - also known as elemental beings.

A contemporary perspective suggests that these beings are denizens of the living consciousness of our planet Earth. Renowned geomancy expert, Marko Pogačnik has devoted three decades to exploring the holistic condition of planet Earth. Throughout his earth-healing work, he also came across these representatives of Earth-Intelligence. Guided by this consciousness of the Earth, he found himself being led through a multitude of aspects of the elemental world.

This book documents his encounters with that mysterious world and shares the results of his research. Along his way, he found completely new aspects of earth intelligence, which are expressed above all in the current earth transformation.

In an era increasingly dominated by artificial intelligence, this book serves as a testament to the all-encompassing intelligence inherent in Earth and Nature—an intelligence far surpassing the capabilities of so called artificial intelligence. Also, this type of Nature Intelligence was a part of experience in ancient cultures, where people saw these as spirits of dwarves, fairies or nymphs.

During his years 1993-94 of Earth Healing activities Marko Pogačnik was invited to experience this fairy tale world as a reality, pulsing beyond the scenes of the physical world. The book is a compilation of three works, written over thirty years.

The first book was published in 1995, according to his experiences mentioned above. By 2005, so many new experiences had been gathered, that they were entered in the form of 63 commentaries to his original book. Twenty years later, as the original book was out of print, Neue Erde publishers decided to re-publish the book with additional chapters on the newest developments in the realms of Nature Intelligence. So, this book is helping to keep wide open the gateway into the world of natural intelligence!

Marko Pogačnik (born 1944), is probably one of the best-known geomancers in our times. He lives in Slovenia. Ever since 1979, he has been dealing, in detail, with geomancy and the processes of Earth Healing. “Litho-Puncture” is a method he discovered (like acupuncture) for a healing influence on the Earth’s organism. He is an author of many books about Earth Healing and is the co-founder of the school for Geomancy called “Hagia Chora”, as well as being a sculptor and land art artist.
